

We Remember...

HAMMERSMITH'S KINKY PAST

In this street is the former home of Tory minister Stephen Milligan MP. In February 1994 this Tory rising star was found dead here, tied to a chair, wearing women's underwear with a plastic bag over his head and a satsuma in his mouth.

Breaking free from the shackles of his reactionary politics with some auto-erotic play was clearly a better use of his time than the tedious scramble for political power.

"it is better to fuck suck and wank till your knees wobble, than to squander your life on reformist politics..."

past tense people's plaques